AYER'S AGUE CURE.

No one remedy is louder called for by the necessities of the American people than a sure and safe cure for Fever and Ague. Such we are now enabled to offer, with a perfect certainty that it will eradicate the disease, and with assurance, founded on proof, that no harm can arise from its That which protects from or prevents this disorder must risk which he must run in violent attacks of this baleful distemper. This "CURE" expels the miasmatic poison of FEVER AND AGUE from the system and prevents the develop ment of the disease, if taken on the first approach of its premonitory symptoms. It is not only the best remedy ever | bl.. The large quantity we supply for a dollar brings it within the reach of everybody; and in bilious districts, where Fever and Ague prevails, everybody should have it and use it freely both for cure and protection. It is hoped this price will place it within the reach of all—the poor as well ass the rich. A great superiority of this remedy over any other ever discovered for the speedy and certain cure of Intermittents is, that it contains no Quinine or mineral, consequently it produces no quinine or other injurious effects whateve: upon the constitution. Those cured by it are left as healthy as if they had never had the disease. Fever and Ague is not alone the consequence of the mias matic poison. A great varity of disorders arise from its ir ritation, among which are Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout. Headache, Blindness, Toothache, Earache, Catarrh, Asthma, Palpitation, Painful Affection of the Spieen, Hysterics, Pain in the Bowels, Colic, Paralysis, and Derangement of the Stomach, all of which, when originating in this cause, put on the intermittent type, or become periodical. This "Cung' expels the poison from the blood, and consequently cures them all alike. gave rise to them. A brief statement, therefore, of the facts, may not be amiss, especially for those of the rising generation, whose lives commenced long after the political agitations preceeding and following the passage of the resolutions in question. They were caused by the Alien and Sedition laws, which originated in the popular indignation against France, for insulting our envoys under the administrarion of John Adams. The French Directory had inflicted injuries upon our commerce, for many years, in consequence of the neutral policy inaugurated by Washington, and powerfully supported afterwards by Jefferson, in spite of his strong inclinations in favor of the French Revolution, and the French people. Envoys were dispatched to complain of these injuries, but were received with much indifference, and covered for the purpose. One pound will make twelve or subjected to so many slights and insults by the French Government, that the administration and the nation at large were filled with violent indignation. In the spring of 1797, accordingly, the President sent in his celebated Manufactured at the CHALLENGE CHEMICAL WORKS, "War Message," which electrified Congress and the country. It was enthusiastically responded to, and Congress passed laws empowering American merchant vessels to violently resist any attempt at search or restraint-rasing large sums of money for national defence -and lastly the Alien and Sedition acts; the first of which authorized the President to order out of the country, on heavy penalties for disobedience, all aliens whom he regarded as dangerous; and the latter declared any attempt to defame the President or Congress, by false and malicious libels, tending to excite the public against them, sedition, and punishable with fine and imprisonment. These laws passed triumphantly by the votes of the Federal party, then in large marjority in Congress, and backed by the nation, who were in a flame at the wrongs of the Directory. The Republicans, headed by Jefferson and Madison, vainly endeavored to resist them .-WILMINGTON, N. C. As expositions of the true philosophy of American Government, it is hard to find any flaw in the Virginia resolutions. They define, with masterly ability and clearness, the measure of power and authority possessed by the General Government, and the separate States. under the Federal compact; and set forth a theory of government which is undoubtedly the true one, under our Constitution. The necessity of such a construction of the Constitution is at this time more obvious than it ever was before; and we hazard the assertion, without fear, that nine-tenths of the people of the South, without regard to party, are at this moment unhesitating believers in the political philosophy of the Resolutions of '98.—R. Cost of Arming .- A special commission, appointed by the Legislature of Virginia to make out an estimate of the cost of arming and equipping a brigand of five thousand men, made their report on Saturday last.
